

Program for Enhancing Systematic Education in Graduate School
2008~2010

Development of Advanced Nursing Specialists in Islands Nursing

~ Integrated education of training in the field and distance education ~

Expected outcomes

- Development of instructors for advanced nursing practice on islands
- Vitalization of health and welfare on isolated islands
- Establishment of nursing on islands

Desired Human Resource after Course Completion

Master's course: Ability for practical guidance/coordination

- Responsible officer in public health center/ health nursing section of municipal offices
- Deputy director of hospital, manager of home-visit nursing station, care coordinator in the healthcare field, and care developer
- Field training instructor of college or graduate schools
- Joint researcher in collaboration with graduate schools and their staff

Doctor's course: Ability for practical educational instruction and research activities

- College faculty member conducting educational research and giving guidance in islands health nursing science
- Professors giving clinical guidance, etc.

Okinawa Prefectural College of Nursing

Aim and Characteristics of Program

1. Development of advanced nursing practice and practical education
2. Development of nursing specialists able to conduct education research and give guidance
3. Development of advanced abilities specialized in islands nursing in order to demonstrate nursing practices suited for islanders' lifestyle
4. On-site education research and guidance in islands nursing based in Miyako islands

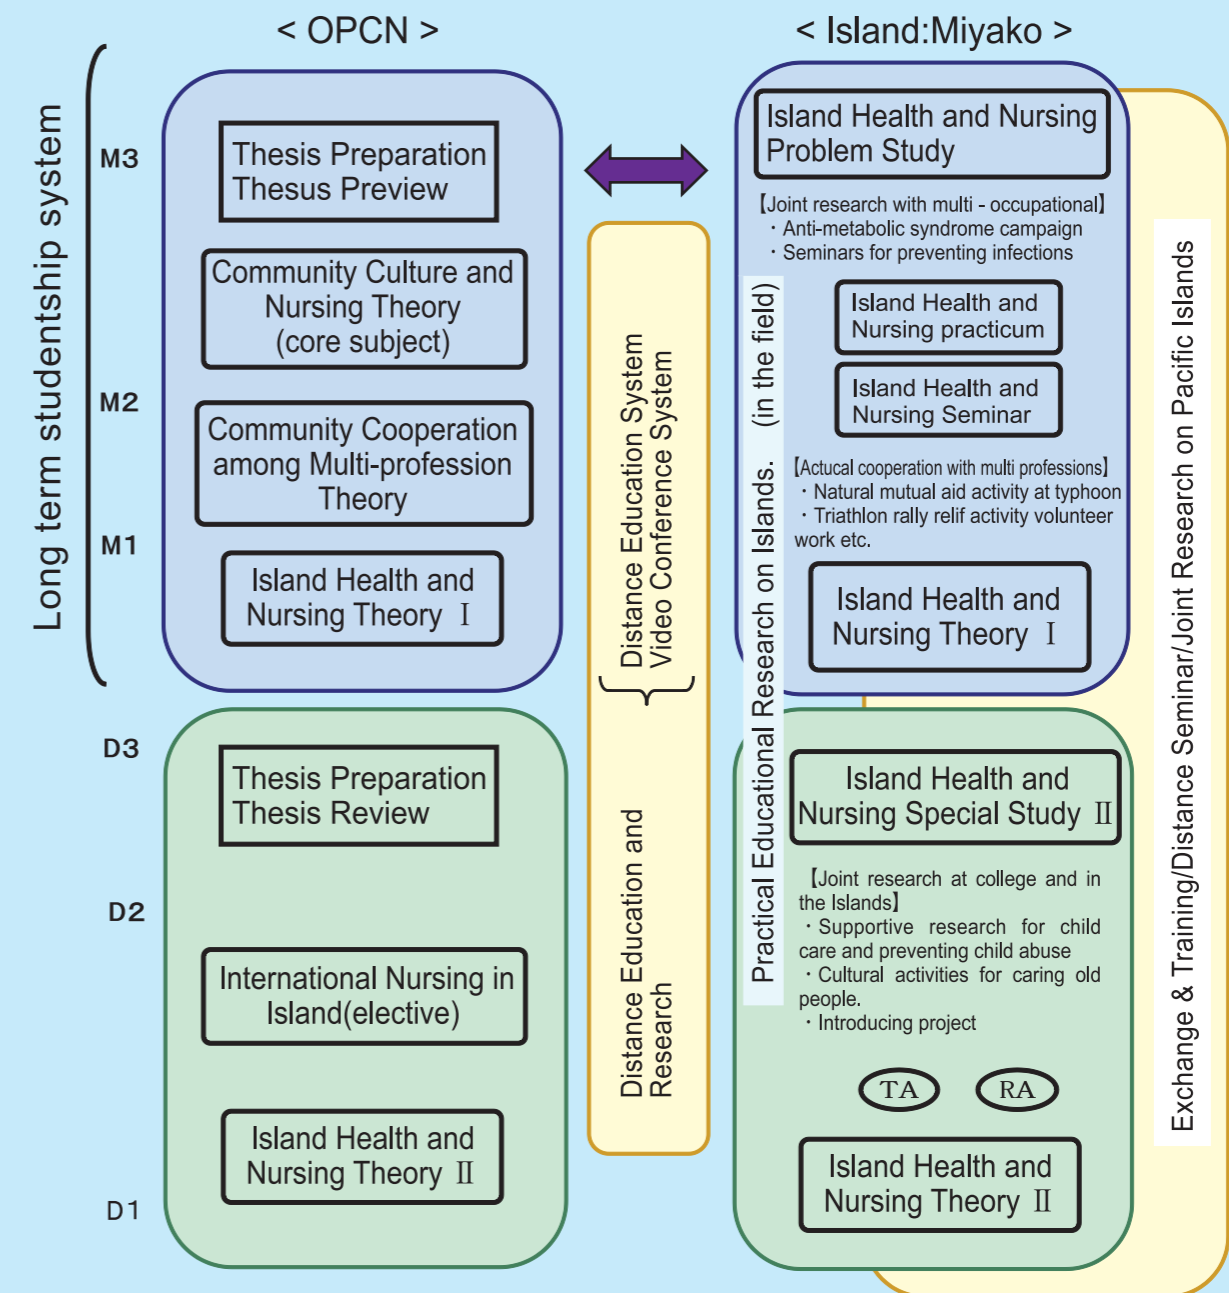

Voluntary/constant development methods after completion of support period

- Improving instruction ability of college instructors
- Securing on-site instructors
- Establishment of global academic exchange

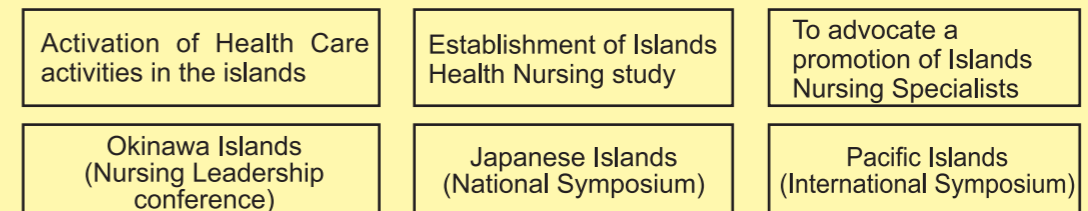

- Promotion of faculty staff
- Specially appointed professors
- Reinforcement of overseas training
- Clinical professors
- Enhancement of educational environment on islands

- Permanent placement of the islands nursing field and increase in the number of admitted students.
- Continuation and expansion of developing instructors in advanced nursing practice on islands
- Continuation of exchange with the Asia-Pacific region

Integrated education of training in the field and distance education

Development of Advanced Nursing Specialists in Islands Nursing

※M:Master's cours (MA), D:Doctor course(PhD), M1-M3,:Academic years